Upon completing 'Pandora's Locks' I realized all the invasive species we have introduced into the Great Lakes via the St. Lawrence Seaway, and now to have imminent threat knocking on our front door. Zebra and Quagga Mussels have spread from our waters all the way to Arizona and the cost of the ecological disasters we face more than that of the Exxon Valdez in 1988. Ecological and permanent separation of the Great Lakes Basin from the rest of the country is the only way to prevent more cost in the future to preserve the wonderful resources we enjoy everyday.

Tight Lines,

Brian Koz
