As a lifelong resident of Ohio, I have enjoyed the benefits of our perch fishing industry, and realize the threat that carp present to that industry. It is crucial that action be taken in an expedient and efficient manor, and that time not be wasted on conducting studies that are not time efficient. It seems to me that information could be gathered in a shorter time than what is currently proposed. Every day we delay, the carp swims closer to the Great Lakes and their tributaries. Please act quickly. Many livelihoods depend on it.
