I support an urgent completion of the GLMRIS that primarily addresses the Chicago Waterway System for the safety of the Great Lakes from Asian Carp.

It is essential to quickly find a way to prevent the movement of invasive species. I hope time and resources will not be wasted studying ways to merely "reduce the risk" of such a occurrence. Only options that will prevent the movement of invasive species should be studied.

Next, I ask you to acknowledge the urgency of finding a permanent solution for the Asian Carp. I hope that you'll make the Chicago Waterway System a priority, condense the timeline, and produce final results for the Chicago portion of GLMRIS within 18 months.

Please make the health and vitality of the Asian Carp-free Great Lakes a top priority.

Sincerely,

Danna
