I recently attended a presentation of three fifth graders from Marist Academy in Pontiac, Michigan. It is here that I learned that there were many different exotic species coming into the Great Lakes. I think that funding should be made available to keep the exotic species out of the Great Lakes. Many of us from Michigan and the surrounding states use the Great Lakes for many reasons, shipping supplies, source of food for some and recreation for others. If the exotic species like the Asian Carp are not prevented from coming into the Great Lakes it will effect the Michigan economy. This will effect those who fish for food as well as those who depend on the Great Lakes for their living. Please help fund this project of keeping the exotic species out of our beautiful Great Lakes.
