After reading yet another article in the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel's award winning series about Great Lakes issues, I am compelled to contact you. As a lover of the lake and an advocate for protecting our greatest natural resource in the country, the Great Lakes.

I am in favor of NOT conducting any more studies. Just close it down, erect a barrier, turn the voltage up, stop the barges, reverse the Chicago river, stop wasting time.

You don't need to conduct any studies. We have enough information. The carp are swimming north while time and money is being wasted. This is foolish.

My beloved beaches are already fouled with zebra mussel shells, choked with clodophora, and umpteen other invasive species.

I want to see action. Not studies. Enough already.
