I encourage the USACE to close all water ways into the Great Lakes that could provide avenues for Asian Carp to enter. Further study of the situation (prior to water-way closures) to evaluate other options will only provide more time for the Asian Carp to enter the Great Lakes. Cargo transfer from vessels within Asian Carp infested waterways to vessels within non-Asian Carp infested waterways would allow water way cargo transport within Great Lake region to continue. The introduction of transfer facilities along the affected waterways would create new business ventures and likely help the general economy.
